SILKE COMMUNICATIONS PROUDLY SPONSORS PAPPEL RACING

Eugene -- Silke Communications, a Eugene-based, family-owned company, is proud to sponsor The Pappel Racing Team, a racing family that's also from Eugene. The sponsorship is a natural extension of support for Silke, which has been pleased to provide Pappel with all its wireless radio communications needs.

"Most often, our communications products and services are used for mission critical, fleet-oriented functions," says President Jim Silke. "Communication between the driver and pit crew are truly critical during a race, but I have to admit that the outcome of all that communication is a really fun thing to watch. It's quite different than our daily work."

Pappel – a team of three -- participates primarily in NHRA drag racing throughout the Northwest. "We are very pleased to have the support from Silke Communications. Sponsors like Silke give our team the ability to be extremely competitive and safe in the NHRA drag racing series," says Ron Pappel. "It's a great company, with great people behind it."
